

A portable divider that creates a private space for concentration

What is SEREN desk?

SEREN desk allows you to create your own private work space, focusing by minimizing your field of vision and using sound absorbing materials at your ears. Rather than completely shutting out the noise, it creates a special feeling freed from the line of sight as if you were in the shade of the tree while listening to the sound around you.

For those who can't concentrate at home

Working in a space with children and family members in particular is less than ideal from a perspective of concentration. In a home environment where you don't have access to a quiet space SEREN desk lets you easily create a private space where you can concentrate. Assemble the compact SEREN desk and you will have a place for concentration in 30 seconds.

When you want to concentrate in an open space

Working in an open space has a sense of freedom, and new ideas can emerge from working while talking with people in the same coworking space. However, if you want to concentrate on work, the open space and surrounding noise can significantly reduce work efficiency and prevent productivity. With SEREN desk, your usual open desk is transformed into your own private space.
